

GUILLOTINE CLAIMS AUTO BANDIT TRIO

Three of Bonnot Band Lose Heads Early Today for Series of Murders

EXECUTIONS CARRIED OUT AT DAWN

Small Crowd Assembles but Police and Soldiers Cut Off View of Death

PARIS, April 21.—In a drizzling rain that made even more than usually dismal the dawn of a Paris "blue Monday" Sunday, Callemin and Monier, three of Bonnot's notorious automobile bandits, today were guil-lotined in exactly three minutes.

The executions, carried out prematurely to forestall a demonstration, occurred at 4:30 a. m. in the boulevard Arago, outside the prison de La Santé. A cordon of police and soldiers entirely surrounded the guillotine and prevented the small mob that gathered from seeing the men die.

Youngest Goes First

Soudy, 21 years old, the youngest of the trio, was the first to die and apparently he was cheerful.

As his hands and feet were bound and his head placed on the block he smiled at his guards and said: "It is a cold good-bye, friends."

Callemin, 23 years old, he who, by his confession, saved the life of the condemned Dieubonne, came next.
He was the coolest of the three men and spoke not a word as his guards prepared him to part company with his head.

Monier, 24 years old, was the last.
He was cool, but very plainly under great mental stress. His teeth chattered as he said: "Good-bye, friends."

The French law provides that condemned persons must be executed on the guillotine in public. Of late there has been a great clamor against the practice and much agitation in the chamber of deputies to change the law. The executions today conformed to the letter of the law in that the guillotine was set up in a public thoroughfare outside the prison, but the police and soldiers effectually prevented the executions from being public by interposing themselves between the mob and the dying men.

May be Last

It was predicted by many today that the deaths of Soudy, Monier and Callemin would be the last of such executions in France.

The men were members of the Bonnot gang of automobile bandits who terrorized Paris for months.

They were condemned to die for the murder of the bank messenger Gaby, shot down when the thieves robbed him of a satchel full of money.

PROBE QUEEN KIDNAPING

CHICAGO, April 21.—Detectives today are investigating one of the strangest kidnappings in Chicago history. Mrs. Matilda Bassi, 1448 Hudson avenue, who came to Chicago from Pittsburgh a month ago, was visited by a strange woman, who convinced her that she was ill and should go to a hospital. "I'll pay for the treatment," said the woman. Mrs.
Bassi went to the hospital. Physicians examined her and told her she needed no treatment. When she returned her two children, Lakatia, 13, and Clara, 4, were missing.

ASK PROBE OF ASSAULT

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Demand for a congressional investigation of the "physical assault" made upon Representative Thetis W. Sims of Tennessee, by C. C. Glover, president of the Riggs National bank, was made in the house today by Representative Garrett of Tennessee. Garrett called for a special committee of five members to ascertain the facts regarding the assault and to report to the house by next Saturday a course of procedure with regard to Glover.

ICE CRUSHER FAILS

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 21.—With thirty steamers waiting above the ice barrier at Whitefish Point and the fleet below the Soo steadily growing larger, the ice crusher, St. Ignace, labored unsuccessfully today to open a patch for navigation between Superior and the lower lakes. A steady wind from the southeast is gradually moving the ice out into the lake.

frage granted hearing to suffragettes.

duced a resolution abrogating Pauncefote and Bulwer treaties planation of the dismissal by the department of justice of "trust."

Appointed special committee sentative Sims by Banker C. C.

Glover.

expenses of the new department of labor.

TIMID LITTLE MAN IS TRAIN-ROBBER

NEW YORK, April 21.—A quiet little man with timid eyes walked into the office of an insurance physician here and asked to be examined. The doctor put on his big spectacles and proceeded to look him man over.
To his astonishment he found six scars in various spots on the little stranger's anatomy, obviously made by gunshot wounds.

"Where did you get those?" queried the physician.

"Robbing trains," said the stranger.

The physician recovered sufficiently to ask the other questions necessary to reveal the fact that his quiet little visitor was Al Jennings of Oklahoma, who, after gaining the name of the art of sticking up trains became a lawyer in his native state. He is here on a social visit.

LARGEST VESSEL LAUNCHED TODAY

"Aquitania"

OUTSTRIPS EVEN "EMPEROR"

Nearly Fifty Feet Longer than Ill-fated Titanic and Carries Enough Boats for All

GLASGOW, April 21.—The new Cunard liner Aquitania, the largest ship in the world, was launched today from John Brown & Company's shipyard at Clyde Bank, just outside Glasgow. The countess of Derby broke the bottle of champagne as the levathan creaked down the ways and slipped into the water. The greatest secrecy was maintained in the Cunarder's preliminary construction and not until the date of launching was definitely fixed, was it known that the Aquitania is 900 feet over all, with 99 foot beam and over 50,- 000 tons register.

Beats the Titanic

The ill-fated Titanic was 852 feet long, with 92 foot beam and 46,328 tonnage. The Hamburg-American of Master liner Imperator, scheduled for her maiden voyage to New York this summer, is twenty feet shorter than the Aquitania.

Although she is not designed especially for speed, the owners believe that the Aquitania with her 80,000 horse power turbines will be able to beat even the Mauretania and Lusitania. The Aquitania will accommodate over 4,000 passengers and a crew of 1,100. Mindful of last April's tragedy, the builders have provided lifeboats for all. Strung in single file the big ships' boats would stretch for more than a mile and an innovation has been provided in the shape of two powerful motor launches, to act as tugs in the event of accident.

Last Word in Luxury

The builders have allowed for magnificent private suites, spacious palm courts, lounges, drawing rooms, smoking rooms, restaurants and a cave that will be the last word in luxury. So great is the Aquitania's bulk that the river Clyde had to be widened to permit her launching.

SOLDIERS JOIN STRIKE

BRUSSELS, April 21.—One soldier was killed and several injured today when two troopers sent to guard a factory at Fountaine L'Eveque mutinied and joined the socialist strikers. The men were going away, retaining their rifles when a military patrol pursued them. Almost trapped, they turned and fired on the patrol and then fled into the forest.

ATTACK STATE RATES

GOVERNMENT SEEKS TO TAKE HAND IN GOPHER RATE CASE BY FILING BRIEF WITH COURT

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The government today sought permission in the supreme court of the United States to intervene as "friend of the court" in the Minnesota and other important railroad cases. The department of justice filed a brief denying the right of states to interfere with interstate commerce by making discriminatory intra-state rates.

If the court agrees to receive the government's brief, it was believed a final decision of the cases will be postponed until next fall.

In its brief the government squarely attacks the right of the states to make intra-state rates which would interfere with interstate commerce.
It supports the decision of Federal Judge Sanborn in the Minnesota rate case, who declared Minnesota's two cent fare law invalid.

The government's application to intervene in the railroad rate cases and to file a brief as a "friend of the court" was granted today by Chief Justice White.

CRONON AFTER SALOON KEEPER'S

Judge Instructs Minor Up for Drunkenness to Have His Father Start Suit

Ben Peterson, the farmhand who held the spotlight of notoriety for a brief instant last summer by mysteriously disappearing after a fight in Barre Mills and thereby exciting some of the farmer population to a belief that murder had been committed, assumed the aggressive in a battle royal in a downtown restaurant Saturday night and paid a fine of $12.50 for his indiscretion in police court today.

Patrolman William Horschak was called to the scene of the fray and when he attempted to place Peterson under arrest, Peterson turned his attention to the demolition of the big policeman. He labored under the handicap of intoxication, however, and was finally subdued and taken to central station.

Judge Urges Prosecution

Norman Iverson, aged 20, was restricted to tell his father to begin prosecution against three North side saloonkeepers who are alleged to have sold him liquor, by Judge Edward Cronon today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk and disorderly. Iverson and Melvin Jerome, with whom he was fighting at the time he was arrested, were each fined $7.50.

Ole Nestinger, who was arrested Friday night after having paid a fine of $22.50 that same morning, was sentenced to 45 days in the county jail by County Judge John Brindley late Saturday afternoon on a charge of being a common drunkard. Patrolman John Wendling testified that Nestinger picked his living out of garbage cans in spite of the fact that he is said to be possessed of considerable money. When reminded that he had paid a fine that morning for being drunk, Nestinger said that he did not know anything about it and inquired where he got the money to pay it.
It is probable that a guardian will be appointed for him when he is released from jail.

Pickpocket Bound Over

John Kelley, accused of picking the pockets of Dick Williams while he was asleep in the Corcoran hotel, was bound over to the circuit court to stand trial on a charge of larceny from the person.

James Frey pleaded guilty to the theft of a bicycle belonging to Eugene Simon and pledging it for eighty cents. He was sentenced to forty days in the county jail.

WILSON MESSAGE HITS OPIUM EVIL

President Asks Co-operation of Congress in Stamping Out Drug

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Governmental co-operation in the stamping out of the opium evil was strongly urged by President Wilson in a special message to congress today.
He transmitted a report by Secretary of State Bryan on the subject.
His message:

"In transmitting the accompanying report from the secretary of state, I most strongly urge not only the immediate appropriation of the $20,000 which is asked, the absolute necessity for which is so apparent, but also the enactment of the requisite anti-drug legislation to which this government is pledged internationally.

"It is a source of gratification to me personally and it will always be, I am confident, a subject of gratification to the nation, that this government realizing the extent of the opium and allied evils, should have initiated the world-wide movement towards their abolition. At this vital period of the movement to fail to take the final steps necessary definitely and successfully to conclude the work will be unthinkable and I therefore trust that there may be no delay in the enactment of the desired legislation and the consequent mitigation, if not suppression of the vice, which has caused such world-wide misery and degradation."

The $20,000 referred to is for participation by the United States in conferences of the powers at The Hague for final decision regarding the opium evil. Secretary Bryan said eradication of the traffic in the poppy juice meant an annual loss of $50,000,000 revenue to the powers concerned, and about $550,000,000 annually to China.

HIGBEE TO GO TO MADISON

City Attorney J. E. Higbee will leave for Madison tomorrow to attend a conference with the state railroad commission in regard to the Rose street viaduct.

MISFORTUNE SWIFT FOR BOYER FAMILY

BMRANTFORD, N. O., April 21.—Misfortunes came swiftly to the Boyer family. Two boys, 7 and 9 years old, went to the barn after eggs and decided to cook some with hay in a pail. The fire spread rapidly through the barn. Mrs. Boyer in a vain effort to save the stock rushed into the flames and received such serious burns that her condition is critical. She had just started to mop the floor when the fire started and left a bucket of scalding water on the floor into which the baby fell while the mother was being burned. Both Mrs. Boyer and the child are being cared for by a trained nurse. The barn and all the horses and cattle were burned.

SUFFRAGE HEARING HELD BY SENATE

Senators and a Congressman Plead Before Committee for Ballot for Women

NO CHANGE IN CONSTITUTION

Oregonian Declares Congress Can Enfranchise Women by Enactment

WASHINGTON, April 21.—United States senators and a member from the lower branch of congress pleading for the ballot for all American women, furnished today an unique spectacle in the proceedings of the senate committee on woman suffrage.
For the first time in the history of the country, the cause was presented by friendly members in the upper house to a committee made up of its friends.

Pointdexter Supports

Senator Pointdexter of Washington, made the principal speech, declaring for the entrance of women into the deliberations of the nation on questions of humane legislation. He said that the opponents of the equal suffrage were against suffrage of any sort based on inherited human right and human need.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, who introduced the constitutional amendment two weeks ago, declared that in his opinion congress could enfranchise women by simple enactment, without a constitutional change.

His colleague, Senator Lane, said that women were born the full partners of men and that he had never understood any reason for delaying their full enfranchisement. He would give them the ballot with an apology for its delay.

Asks Woman's Aid

Representative French of Idaho declared that he had never heard of an instance in his state where politics had broken up a home. He believed that society had a right to demand the aid of women in dealing with problems which they were especially qualified to solve.

"As an educator, I protest against the waste of which this nation is guilty," said May Wright Sewall, honorary president of the International Council of Women, "failing to utilize so great a section of its most carefully educated people."

ALIEN BILL IS UP

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 21.— Unless it is delayed by the introduction of new amendments, the anti-alien land owning bill will be taken up in the senate this afternoon.

Powerful interests are making an effort to secure the passage of an amendment allowing European corporations to hold land. If such action is taken, it will, if possible, be done in such a way as to avoid using the words "ineligible to citizenship" to which President Wilson objects.

ELGIN BUTTERMARKET

ELGIN, Ill., April 21.—Butter was quoted at 33 cents today, the same price that prevailed last week.

EXTRA TARIFF BILL IS INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON, April 21.—"H. R. 10"—the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill—was reintroduced in the house late this afternoon. The measure carries the changes made in the democratic tariff caucus. It will be called up for debate on Wednesday.

ADMIRAL TOGO PROMOTED

TOKIO, April 21.—Admiral Count Meichachiro Togo, who was Japan's foremost naval commander during the war against Russia, today was made admiral of the fleet.

WILSON TO JERSEY

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Arrangements for President Wilson's trip to northern New Jersey were completed today. He will spend May

WILSON HUNTS PRACTICAL MEN

Scientists for Jobs Under New Administration Must Have Executive Abilities

PLEASED WITH TARIFF PROGRESS

Wilson Believes Measure Will Pass Congress in Practically Present Form

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Merely because a man is a scientist will not insure his job under the Wilson administration. He must be a practical man of affairs if his position requires administrative duties.

The president made this plain today when he was asked at his weekly audience with the Washington correspondents, whether it was to be the rule that scientists were to be dealt with separately in considering their claims to positions. The president believes that where scientists are needed the country must have the best in their line, but in positions such as the director of the census bureau, he believes that the individual named must be possessed of executive as well as scientific attainments.

The president refused to discuss the case of Prof. Willis L. Moore, head of the weather bureau, removed from office for improper use of his department. He has referred the entire situation to the attorney general to decide whether there shall be other proceedings.

No further news has been received by the president from California, but he believes that the governor and legislature realize that the gravity of the pending legislation and that they will be sure that there is no discrimination in whatever law, if there is any, is finally determined on.
The news that his telegram to the California officials sent by Secretary of State Bryan was well received in Japan, pleased the president.

The president is well pleased today over the progress made in disposing of the tariff bill. He feels confident that there will be no hitch in taking it through the house and that the senate situation will smooth itself out before the measure is taken up there. He has made it plain to all callers that the bill will go through practically as at present arranged.

ELECT STEEL DIRECTORS.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Directors of the United States Steel corporation held their annual meeting here today. Thomas Murray, assistant secretary of the corporation, was elected a director to succeed the late J. P. Morgan. The following directors were re-elected: E. M. Gary, George W. Perkins, Henry Phillips, Alfred C. C. Converse,
James A. Farrell and J. P. Morgan,

ART COLLECTION LEFT TO PEOPLE

Morgan Will Leave Bulk of Interests to His Son, J. P. Morgan,
Jr.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The will of J. P. Morgan, disposing of his vast fortune, was filed for probate in the surrogate's court here today.

The only part of the late financier's holdings left to be disposed of is his vast art collection. J. P. Morgan, Jr., today declined to comment on the will in any way, but inasmuch as the document provides that the son shall "make permanent disposition of them to render them permanently available for the pleasure and instruction of the American people," a statement regarding the art treasures from Morgan is expected later. The bulk of the Morgan interests go to J. P. Morgan, Jr.

POSTMASTER KILLS MAN

LEON, Iowa, April 21.—A coroner's jury is today busy investigating the killing yesterday of Bill Woodward by Postmaster Earl Riley on the streets of Decatur, near here. The men had quarreled and Saturday Woodward was fined for carrying concealed weapons. When the men met after church yesterday the quarrel was renewed in a drug store.
Going to the street, Riley says Woodward drew a revolver and that he fired from his pocket. The bullet entered Woodward's heart. Riley surrendered.

ADAMSON TO JERSEY

rangements for President Wilson's trip to northern New Jersey were completed today. He will spend May 1 and 2 in his home state, advocat-

BURN HAYSTACK TO AVENGE TREATMENT

LONDON, April 21.—Militant suffragettes today burned a huge haystack near Corsham, Wiltshire, believing it to be the property of the Hon. Charles Edward Henry Hothouse, chancellor for the Duchy of Lancaster, a cabinet minister. The stack, however, belonged to his father-in-law, Maurice Knapp.

"Votes for Women" banners and W. S. P. U. flags were left at the scene of the fire.

It is supposed by the police that the fire was the work of London suffragettes, in revenge for the treatment they received yesterday. All over London militant meetings were broken up by mobs yesterday, the speakers being pelted with sticks, stones and oranges, threatened with rough handling and prevented from speaking.

MISSION STILL SHORT BY $300

$500 of the $800 Necessary to Continue Work of Rescue Is Raised by the Campaign

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD TONIGHT

Pastors of Churches Make Special Pleas for Assistance from Congregations

Superintendent D. C. Dewey and P. MacFarlane, who have been canvassing the city for the past four days for funds to continue the work of the City Mission throughout the year, reported at an early hour this morning, they had raised $500. This leaves a balance of $300 still to be raised, to make the $800 that is necessary for the work.

The pastors of several churches made special pleas to their congregations yesterday morning, for members to contribute to the cause. Several young men of the First Presbyterian church were out Saturday soliciting with the result that they raised a good amount.

Throughout the time that MacFarlane has been in La Crosse, he has aided in special services at the Mission, which have been largely attended, the congregations as a whole, the largest that have been in the mission the time it has been in existence.

There will be a special service at the mission tonight at 8 o'clock, which will be the closing meeting of the campaign. A lunch will be served to those attending, after the service.

HEIRESS WEDS MAILMAN

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 21.—After an acquaintance of a week, Miss Gus-tie Egelhoff of Los Angeles, stepdaughter of a Los Angeles millionaire, eloped with Charles Schroeder, a Jerseyville, Ill., mail carrier. Mrs.
Egelhoff, with her mother, Mrs.
Gussie Rundal, returning from Europe, had been visiting at Jerseyville. The couple were married at Carrollton, Ill., after a romantic night time elopement in an automobile.

GET ALLEGED BANDIT

DETROIT, Mich., April 21.—William J. McDonald, 21, alleged to be a member of the Chicago auto bandit gang, was arrested here today upon a tip furnished to the police by Jas.
Graham, with whom the Chicago man boarded.

"He abused my daughter and tried to lead my son astray so I decided to turn him over to the police," Graham explained.

HEAD OF MATERNITY HOME OR "BABY FARM" IN CHI-CAGO ADMITS LACK OF RECORDS

CHICAGO, April 21.—Dr. L. D.
Rogers, head of the National Maternity home, one of the alleged "baby farms" now under investigation by the state legislative committee, admitted on the witness stand today that he had kept no record of where infants were placed after their birth in his home, until two years ago.

The investigators secured an affirmative answer when they asked the physician if he deliberately failed to record the placing of infants, so that in after years neither the mother nor the child could trace each other.

The doctor's memory failed him when he was asked to tell how many negro children were born of white mothers in his home. He also said that he had failed to record much of the other vital statistics of his institution, such as the number of still-births, the number of deaths and the number of deformed infants.

Dr. Rogers was ordered to produce this and the name and disposition of every baby born in his home the past two years.

ELGIN, Ill., April 21.—Criminologists and students of psychology studied with amazement today the case of Herman Koppes, the eighteen year old boy, who, between snickers and expressions of amusement, calmly confessed to the police the slaying of Mrs. Maude Sleep, young farmer's wife and two babies.

The motive that inspired this tousle-haired lad, a paroled inmate of the St. Charles reformatory, to commit the crime is as yet undiscovered.

RUSHFORD MINN

Peder Evenson Quickstad, an old and highly respected resident of Peterson, passed away at his home, April 12th after a long and very painful illness. He was born in Vestre Toten Norway in 1843 and in 1865 was married to Miss Martha Rose, coming over to this country in 1869 and going direct to Rushford, where they lived a year after which they came down to Rushford. In 1873 they again moved to Peterson where they have since resided. Mr. Quickstad, some years ago, took his eldest son into partnership with him and engaged in blacksmithing and wagon-making, later adding farm machinery to his business. Mr. and Mrs. Quickstad were the parents of ten children, nine of whom survive him, six girls and three boys. He also leaves a widow and one brother. Funeral services were held Wednesday from the United Church of Peterson and interment made at the United church cemetery, Rev. Saevig conducting the services.

Mr. A. M. McDermid of North Rushford, who has been bed-ridden since Christmas, passed away at his home Wednesday morning. He was one of Minnesota's pioneers, being a resident of Oak Ridge for many years and lived in Rushford for about ten years. He was, during the years of his boyhood and young manhood, a sailor, having been in many foreign countries, being several times shipwrecked. He was in his eighty-eighth year of his age when he died. He leaves, besides a wife, four daughters and two sons. Funeral services were held Saturday from the house at half past one, Rev. Bantly officiating.

The neighboring village of Preston voted "dry" this spring by a majority of sixty.

FOR SALE—Side saddle and bridle, excellent condition. Cost $15, will take $4. Call new phone 1137-C, or address "Snap," care Tribune.

The many friends of Olaf Backman, a former Rushford boy and a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Backman, are glad to hear that he is now postmaster at Chisholm, this state. In an examination on distribution of mail embracing all the postoffices in Minnesota, about 1600 in number, he succeeded in getting a mark of 99 per cent. He has also passed similar examinations in the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, the Dakotas and Montana.

The "Phoebe Sewing Circle" assisted by the Ladies' Aid society of the Scandinavian Free church on Saturday afternoon, served at the Bible Institute, a missionary program being rendered at three o'clock followed by a sale of needlework. The proceeds of the sale and lunch will be given to Miss Sarah Espeland, a former student, for missionary work in China.

Mr. and Mrs. Mangus Reishus were Preston callers Saturday. On Tuesday Mr. Reishus and Edgar Egan went out to Montana, to locate claims and expect to return to Rushford in about two weeks.

George Loesch, former assistant at the depot here, is visiting friends in this city.

Mrs. Thomas Kierland is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. G. Hutchins of Evanston, Ill.

Messrs. P. Smaby and O. S. Reum of Peterson, were business callers here yesterday.

ICE SINKS VESSEL ON GREAT LAKES

Crew Left Marooned on a Floe Is Picked Up when Rescuers Notice Distress Rockets

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 21.—Word received at noon at the local wireless station confirmed the story brought to port today by the crew of the steamer Anna C. Minoch, of the sinking late Sunday afternoon of the steamer Uganda, bound Milwaukee to Buffalo with a cargo of grain. All members of the crew of 22 were saved.

The Minoch picked up the story from the steamer Donaldson, which rescued the Uganda's crew. According to the Donaldson's wireless operator, the bow of the Uganda, which was one of the largest wooden vessels plying the lakes, was punctured by an enormous ice floe and she sank within a few minutes, leaving the crew of twenty-two marooned on the floe. Distress rockets called the Donaldson to the rescue. Several of the crew are said to be painfully hurt. It was impossible to learn the Donaldson's destination.

The Uganda was the property of Edward Mehl of Erie, Pa., and her last trip was the maiden voyage of the steamer's twenty-first year.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

HER PROTEGE

By CATHERINE COOPER

Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Lena Ashford leaned forward from her position by the window. Her musical senses had been outraged by the sound of a child's voice singing in the court.

Miss Ashford's apartment was on the ground floor and she peered out. The child singing there was nothing but a waif whose small face was distorted with his effort to raise a voice sufficient to attract attention and a few coppers. Her heart felt suddenly as if a muscular hand had gripped it and was wringing it so tight as to pain her.

The child's atrocious voice coupled with his brave effort to attract attention aroused her pity. Lena Ashford had not always been a successful operatic singer; she, too, had known the need of a helping hand.

With swift intuition she knew that in another moment the little waif would be told to leave the court. Singing such as his was not tolerated in that aristocratic neighborhood. Already the ominous rumbling of windows proclaimed displeasure.

She quickly threw up her window and leaned out. The boy did not shrink away when she motioned to him but came over and stood close beside her.

"Hush," she told him softly. "I am going to sing for you." She put her arm across the waif's shoulder and began singing the terrible little street song he had been singing. The boy remained close beside her, his small body rigid with the wonderment of the lovely being whose hand was lying on his shoulder.

It was only a moment before windows opened cautiously on all sides of the court. It was tea-time hour on a Sunday afternoon and a propitious moment for an audience. Those who looked out and down upon the singers saw a couple who seemed to have captured the sunbeam that had drifted into the scene; it lingered over the waif and the woman like a spotlight. The beauty of the woman's voice sank into insignificance beside the wonder of her act. That she was giving freely of her golden talent was the thought that entered the minds of those who accepted the situation at a glance. Philanthropy in its prettiest form was being enacted there in the window of Lena Ashford.

Dimes, quarters, dollars, notes began to flutter and tinkle on the stone court.

The waif did not stir from his position, but glancing down Miss Ashford saw a little light in his eyes. Intuition again told her that the boy's effort to make a few coppers had been for some one dearly loved. A little song of thanksgiving arose quickly to her lips and a moment later the windows above had closed softly, even reverently, and Lena smiled down at the boy.

"Pick it all up—every bit of it," she commanded him with lips that trembled, though they smiled, "then come here and I will lift you over the window sill and we will have cakes and chocolate, to celebrate our debut."

Tears were perilously near the surface when Lena lifted the too slight figure into her spacious library. The mother nature within her longed to bring color into the boy's cheeks and luster to his eyes. He was not a common waif, this boy of the streets, or he would not have doffed his cap when he came into the house.

He was not fearful and shrinking in the presence of luxury.

"If father didn't trust me he would think I had not come by all this money honestly," he told Lena. "I will have to tell him about you. He does not even know that I am out trying to make money."

Later, when she had learned of the father, who was an artist and one whom the world had not heard of, Lena found herself telling the boy to amuse himself while she donned her out-of-door garments.

She had two motives for accompanying the boy home. First was the thought that he might in some way lose the precious money he had stuffed into his tiny pockets, and secondly, there was a feeling that she might in some way help this man who had failed to make a living for himself and the boy.

"If there is a store open we had better stop and get something for father to eat," the boy had confided on the way to the tenement building in which he lived.

"Abject poverty," mentally ejaculated Lena, and was truly glad that she had accompanied the waif.

When she followed the boy into the room of the tenement she drew in a sharp breath of astonishment. The walls were hung with paintings in oil from ceiling to floor. An instantaneous survey told her that art in its reality was there. Wonderment as to why the artist had not proclaimed himself a master hurried all other thoughts from her mind.

And yet, when she turned to meet the man who could thus express his strength on canvas, she recognized the fact that he had put his entire forces, his all, into the work of his brushes. He had nothing left with which to push himself into the markets. His face radiated the inner glow of genius; his personal appearance was that of the artist with temperamental equipment and lacking in the practical strain. Again the motherly instinct crept into Lena Ashford's thoughts. He needed care, guidance and nourishment, as surely as did the small boy clinging to his hand. Perhaps had his wife lived he might have been helped on to the pinnacle of fame. Lena Ashford knew that unalloyed genius always required a strong guiding hand.

"Will you let me exhibit your work for you?" she asked him when they had talked of many things.

A whimsical smile played about the man's lips and Lena felt that he was going to refuse her offer, but suddenly he glanced down at the sunny head of the boy. His teeth pressed together and his shoulders squared.

"I owe it to my son—to let you help me," he said.

The woman choked back a lump in her throat. This man's humility hurt her; why, she knew not. She began to speak swiftly.

"You need not be ashamed of accepting help from one who is in a position to give it. I would never have sung before the public had I not been helped. Everything I possessed in the world was sold so that I could study, and even then I would have failed had I been unwilling to accept thousands of dollars and much influence from wealthy and philanthropic friends."

Lena stopped speaking for a moment and her eyes met those of the man. It seemed as if he had grown suddenly taller, more commanding. "I have everything to offer you—many friends who will appreciate your work—many who will want portraits, and great rooms where you can hold exhibits. Will you do this—for me?" The singer was conscious of heat in her cheeks and a tremor in her voice. Some undecurrent in the air was working marvels. The man, too, and the boy seemed born of a new happiness.

A silence pregnant with prophecy held the two in its grip.

The artist put his hand into that of Lena Ashford, and he held her really nearer to him than he was conscious of.

"I always told papa he was a great painter," a treble voice chimed through the silence.

"Yes, but it takes a great woman to make a great man," the artist said, and two of the trio at least knew that the greatest thing in life had come suddenly to them.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Lion and The Man With The Bicycle.

JACK said when he grew up he meant to go away off to some wild country and hunt lions.

"And you'll be good and scared, too," was Evelyn's kind hint to her brother.

"No, I won't, either," replied Jack. "I'm no afraid cat, I'm not. Am I, daddy?"

"I hope not," daddy replied. "Still, I'm not sure that I wouldn't be pretty badly scared myself if I should meet a lion."

"I read a story of a man who lived in South Africa. He was helping to build a railroad there. In some places the railroad was being built right through the midst of wild jungles where there were all sorts of fierce animals."

"Now, most wild beasts unless you attack them or they have been made angry before they meet you will slink away."

"The man of whom I am telling you was an engineer. He had charge of gangs of black men who were digging and shoveling and laying tracks. As he had to keep an eye on a good long piece of road, he had a bicycle on which he rode up and down the country."

"One evening he was coming down the road to his home when he noticed a large animal walking along in the road a short distance in front of him. It came trotting up, and what was his horror to see that it was a big lion. The lion looked at the man on the bicycle in surprise. 'Here is a new kind of human creature in my jungle,' the lion may have said to himself. 'He can run faster than the ostrich. I must know more about him.'

"The engineer had heard a good deal about lions and their queer ways. One thing he had heard was that lions are very inquisitive."

"So to puzzle the lion he got down from his bicycle and, putting it on his head, began to carry it in this way."

"The lion looked surprised, and when the engineer managed to pass it by trotting round the side of the path and started to walk toward his camp the lion followed after, wagging his tail thoughtfully and no doubt making up his mind that a mean creature who could take off what seemed part of his body and carry it on his head was worth studying."

"He followed the railroad man for eight miles, and when they came in sight of the camp the lion dodged off into the jungle."

"And when he reached camp the engineer's companions said that likely as not his trick had saved his life. Well, just the same, I have great respect for a lion who would rather learn something than have a good dinner. In that he is ahead of some human folks I know."

ALL STATES SHOULD ELECT NON-PARTISAN JUDICIARY
By a vote of 44 to 0 the Iowa senate passed a bill to provide for the non-partisan election of judges. As indicated, not one opposing vote was cast on the measure.
The unanimous vote on the proposal is a revelation of the changing times. It illustrated that the public weal is receiving a larger consideration than party advancement. Thanks to the independent spirit of the electors and to their determination to throw off the shackles of party servitude, progress in the election of a non-partisan judiciary is being made.
Wisconsin already has a non-partisan bench, and the hour is at hand in Iowa and in other states when men shall be selected to serve on the bench because of their qualifications and not because of their party service and loyalty.
Party consideration should not enter into the election of the judiciary.
It is questionable if it is sound policy even to have judges of courts of record elected at the same time that other elections are held, a principle now recognized in this state by holding judicial elections in the spring along with the non-partisan city election. It is right to divorce the judiciary from political clamor and agitation. The candidates for the high office of judge should stand upon the merit of their own feet and not base their hopes for success upon the picture of Abraham Lincoln.
Theodore Roosevelt or any other party insignia at the top of the column in which their names appear.
When the non-partisan election of judges is secured in all states there will be less need for the recall of judges or the recall of judicial decisions, although the right to recall should be given the people. If men are chosen instead of parties there will be created a belief that the judiciary is more nearly aligned to the progress of public sentiment and that in the larger questions affecting the public welfare the courts will be more responsive to the living, pulsing and breathing sentiments of the people.
The day of the universal non-partisan selection of judges is approaching. A gift of prophecy is not required to make this prediction. Ordinary observation reveals the great development of independent voting and the disappearance of the fallacy that men must vote their tickets straight. Out of this independent voting will arise a demand for non-partisan offices and the judiciary will receive the first attention.

The time is passing when a party recommendation is sufficient for the election of a judge. The signs of the times point to the selection of judges for capacity and qualification. No other tests should be used. When merit succeeds political affiliation a great reform will have been accomplished.

MEN AND THINGS ON THE BACK TRAIL
Now that the new administration is settled, as the housewife would say, in its household, it is interesting to go back over the battlefield and revive its incidents for the analysis of calmer moments.
In doing so we fall immediately upon the tracks of "Bach" and Al Wolfe, respectively second and bottle holder for Mayor Sorensen. The big thought in this connection was that "Bach" "came back."
Time was when N. C. Bacheller was accepted as a big political figure in La Crosse. As city clerk and as postmaster he did public service, but it was later, as head, front and center of the local democracy, that he made his mark. It became known in the community in those days that "Bach's" word was a bond, and it followed quite naturally that "Bach's" word was law. In other words, he became the "boss."
"Bach" wound up his political career in La Crosse by "putting Joe Boschert over," and serving as alderman during the exciting days of the lighting controversy, wherein he ran the aldermanic machine with push-button precision and made several pages in La Crosse history.
Then "Bach" drifted into western land in a big way, varying the monotony of irrigating the desert with little flyers in church building. La Crosse saw him only occasionally, when with the breeze of the prairies tilting his sombrero he romped in for a few weeks' sojourn among the pals of older days. We came to associate him with bucking bronchos and digger Indians, then, rather than with things political, and expected reminiscences of Custer's last stand rather than statecraft.
So when "Bach" appeared as the headliner in Mr. Sorensen's campaign there were those on the sidelines who quite naturally wondered whether he could hit his old stride.
Perhaps "Bach," too, wondered, but he didn't hesitate to try. We all know what happened to Jim Jeffries three years ago, and what happened to "Ad" Wolgast Saturday night.
They had lost their punch, these two.
But not so "Bach." After reading the story of the fight by rounds, we'll all have to come to this conclusion:
"Bach" "came back."
Another citizen who probably had no trouble in consoling himself with results of the election is Alderman William Torrance. Notwithstanding that he was lined up on the losing side of the well vs. river water fight, along with Mayor Sorensen, he has seen everything for which he contended before the people endorsed in no half-hearted fashion. That this happened in the face of his former position is a fact which Mr. Torrance may logically interpret as an endorsement won under rather trying circumstances, and it is therefore fair to presume that the alderman from the Sixteenth is now able to possess his soul in considerable equanimity.
By the way, if flattering committee appointments are meat to aldermen, Alderman Frank Kohn, having taken every chance and played an er-rorless game, may be expected to have the box-score framed as a memento of a perfectly charming experience.

An exchange calls attention to the fact that the butterfly has never been convicted of germ carrying. Neither has the aeroplane; but how long will it be before some ambitious scientist prefers charges against them.
Three Chinamen have joined the fraternities at Cornell. Why not?
Most of the fraternities sound as though they were named after Chinamen.
A self confessed horse thief has been acquitted in California. Any man who can find a horse to steal these days is entitled to a discoverer's medal.
A considerable number of men will soon be engaged in the interesting task of trying to figure their incomes down to $2,999.99.
It requires quite a lot of patience to lick one of those new Panama exposition postage stamps.
Wilson didn't knock Bryan into a cocked hat, after all. He knocked him into a silk hat.

and Wanton Wiles

Beginning
A little stream had lost its way Amid the grass and fern; A passing stranger scooped it well Where weary men might turn;
He walled it in and hung with care A ladle at the brink.
He thought not of the deed he did,
But judged that all might drink, He passed again and lo! the well, By summer never dried,
Had cooled ten thousand parching tongues.
And saved a life beside.

A nameless man, amid a crowd That thronged the daily mart, Let fall a word of hope and love, Unstudied from the heart, A whisper on the tumult thrown.
A transitory breath,
It raised a brother from the dust, It saved a soul from death, O germ, O fount, O word of love, O thought at random cast!
Ye were but little at the first,
But mighty at the last.
—Charles Mackay.

Scored on Assist
A German shoemaker left the gas-turbine on in his shop one night, and on arriving in the morning struck a match to light it. There was a terrific explosion and the shoemaker was blown out through the door almost to the middle of the street.
A passer-by rushed to his assistance, and, after helping him to rise, inquired if he was injured.
The little German gazed at his place of business, which was now burning quite briskly, and said:
"No, I ain't hurt. But I got out shust in time, eh?"—What to Eat.

Just Visitin'
A notable housekeeper of the past generation, before the days of screens had just announced with decision that she never had any flies.
"But, Aunt Augusta," faltered the timid visitor, "it seems to me that I saw a few in the dining room."
"Oh, those," replied her aunt, with a majestic wave of her hand, "were the neighbors' flies. They will come in occasionally. But, as I was saying, we never have any of our own." —Youth's Companion.

The physician had been treating a man for dyspepsia for a long time, and finally, wishing to know how his patient was coming on, he told him to take a pickle just before going to bed and see if he could hold it on his stomach over night. The next day the man called and the physician asked him the result.
"Oh, it was all right, doctor," he said, "as long as I was awake, but when I went to sleep it rolled off."

Not With Angels Impecunious Sutor (endeavoring to make himself agreeable to Miss Angela's papa)—What a charming place you have here, Mr. Oldman!
Does it go all the way to that grove over there?
Unsympathetic Papa—It does.
Impecunious Sutor—And all the way to that stone wall in the distance on this side.
Unsympathetic Papa—It does. And it goes all the way to the river on the south, and all the way to the main road on the north. But it does not go with my daughter Angela.

Remarkable Catarrh Cure That Gets Right into the Affected Parts and Stops Gatherings.

S. S. S. is a Wonder for the Eyes, Nose and Throat.

It is definitely known that catarrh can be cured by the simple process of inoculating the blood with antiseptic remedies that stop inflammatory conditions throughout the mucous linings of all the organs of the body. This is done with the famous Swift's Sure Specific, or, as it is widely known, S. S. S. It is taken into the blood just as naturally as the most nourishing food. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, through all the veins and arteries, and enables all mucous surfaces to exchange inflammatory acids and other irritating substances for arterial elements that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all catarrhal pollution.
S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure, blood-making materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in the process of purification.
You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely catarrh often infests the entire system. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 per bottle. It is a remarkable remedy for any and all blood affections, such as eczema, rash, lupus,

Doughnuts
That will remain moist.

Every housewife who bakes her own bread knows that if a little potato is added to the sponge, the bread will not dry out so quickly. In this recipe potato is utilized to make doughnuts that will remain moist and fresh for several days.
K C will be found to have distinct advantages over any other Baking Powder for doughnuts. K C is a double acting baking powder with which a large batch of doughnuts may be mixed and fried a few at a time. The last will be as light and nice as the first.

K C Potato Doughnuts
By Mrs. Nevada Briggs, of Baking School fame.

3 cups flour; 2 eggs; 1 cup sugar; 1 level teaspoonful K C Baking Powder; 1 teaspoonful salt; 1/2 teaspoonful mace; 1 cup cold mashed potato; 1 cup milk, or more if needed.

Sift three times, the flour, salt, spice and baking powder. Beat eggs with rotary beater, then still using rotary beater, gradually add sugar, then work in the mashed potato with a spoon and alternately add milk and flour mixture. Make a soft dough, roll into a sheet, cut into rounds, pinch a hole in the center with the finger and fry in deep fat.
Fat for frying should not be hot enough to brown the doughnut until it has risen.
When the doughnut is dropped into the fat it sinks to the bottom. As soon as it comes up it should be turned and turned a number of times while cooking. This recipe is excellent as they do not take the fat in frying and will stay moist for days.

OF WOMEN

The Mississippi Congress of Mothers has appointed a committee to appear before the State Medical association and ask co-operation in securing a law requiring that sex hygiene be taught in the public schools.

Mrs. Edward H. Jones, who was elected national president of the Ladies of the G. A. R. in Los Angeles last September, has announced a tour of inspection for the coming fall, covering nine states in the west.

"Do not sin against the child." Kindergarten school life is so common and effective in our present system of instruction that it hardly comes to us that it was not easily established. To put action at the root of all educational effort was the theory. To have children grow physically mentally and morally in a natural and spontaneous manner was the practice. The success of the theory and practice is seen today in every school.

BOMB WRECKS CLUB

NEW YORK, April 21.—The second attempt in the last three years to destroy the Pocomet club, a Tammany organization, occurred at 1 a.
m. today when a bomb, exploding in the basement, wrecked the basement and first floor, threw clabmen on the fourth floor off their feet and shattered the glass in all of the buildings in a radius of several hundred feet.
The glass memorial windows of the Grace Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church were ruined.

TO RELEASE I. W. W. MEMBERS

DENVER, Col., April 21.—Following conference today between Mayor Arnold and Chief of Police O'Neill and a committee composed of members of the I. W. W. confined in the city jail, it was decided that all of the prisoners belonging to the organization would be released within a few days. They are turned out of jail on the condition that they leave the city within twenty-four hours.

Didn't Like His Looks

Pat had been at work for three days digging a well, and as the foreman wanted it finished within the week he had promised Pat another man to help him. It was getting on to 11 o'clock, and Towser, the foreman's bulldog, was looking over the edge of the pit, when Pat said to himself, "I'll have a smoke." He had filled his pipe and was about to light it, when he glanced up and beheld Towser's handsome features.

Slowly removing his pipe from his mouth, he said: "Be-e-gorra, Ol've worked wid Germans and Hengarians, and Ol've wor-ried with Oital-ians, but if a man wid a face like that comes down here to work beside me Ol gets up."

Nothing to the Horse

The good Samaritan was taking his constitutional walk in the country one afternoon when Tim Connors, the man of all work from a neighboring farm, was seen approaching in the distance.
"Don't you know better than to drive that poor horse up hill so fast?" said the Samaritan.
"Up hill, is it?" said Tim, with a wise smile. "Oh, begorra, what's the difference? The nag's blind and he can't see it."—Harper's Magazine.

The Unjust

He found himself at his own door, and paused uncertainly. He passed a tremulous hand before his eyes. Was he sure of Gilmore—was he sure of Evelyn, who must know that North was innocent? The thought of her roused in him all his bitter sense of hurt and injury.
North had trampled on his confidence and friendship! The lines of his face grew hard. This was to be his revenge—his by every right, and his fears should rob him of no part of it!
He pushed open the door and entered the unlighted hall, then with a grumbled oath because of the darkness, passed on into the sitting-room. Except for such light as a bed of soft coal in the grate gave out, the room was clothed in uncertainty.
He stumbled against a chair and swore again savagely. He was answered by a soft laugh, and then he saw Evelyn seated in the big arm-chair at one side of the fireplace.
"Did you hurt yourself, Marsh?" she asked.
Langham growled an unintelligible reply and dropped heavily into a chair. He brought with him the fumes of whisky and stale tobacco, and as these reached her across the intervening space Evelyn made a little grimace in the half light.
"I declare, Marsh, you are hardly fit to enter a respectable house!" she said.

In spite of his doubt of her, they were not on the worst of terms, there were still times when he resumed his old role of the lover, when he held her drifting fancy in something of the potent spell he had once been able to weave about her. Whatever their life together, it was far from commonplace, with its poverty and extravagance, its quarrels and its reconciliations, while back of it all, deep-rooted in the very dregs of existence, was his passionate love. Even his brutal indifference was but one of the many phases of his love; it was a manifestation of his revolt against his sense of dependence, a dependence which made it possible for him to love where his faith was destroyed and his trust gone absolutely. Evelyn was vaguely conscious of this and she was not sure but that she required just such a life as theirs had become, but that she would have been infinitely bored with a man far more worth while than Langham. From his seat by the fire Langham scowled across at her, but the scowl was lost in the darkness.

"Your father was here last evening, Marsh," Evelyn said at length, remembering she had not seen him the night before, and that he had breakfasted and gone before she was up that morning.
"What did he come for?" h e r husband asked.

"I think to see you. Poor man, he doesn't seem able to get the run of the hours we keep; I told him he could always find you here between four and eight in the morning. I must say this little insight into your domestic habits appeared to distress him, but I tried to comfort him—I told him you would probably outlive us all." She laughed softly, "And was here this afternoon, Marsh" she went on.

"What the devil did he want?"
"I don't know."
"Is he coming back?"
"He didn't mention it, if he is."
And again she laughed.
Langham moved impatiently; her low full-throated mirth jarred on his somber mood.
"Were you in court today, Marsh?" she inquired, after a short silence.

"Yes," he answered briefly.
"Were there many there?"
"Yes."
"Any ladies, Marsh?" she questioned, with sudden eagerness.
"If you can call them that," he growled.
"Do you know, Marsh, I had a strong impulse to go, to. Would you have been astonished to see me there?" she asked tentatively.

"We won't have any of that—do you understand?" he said with fierce authority.
"Why not? It's a right for me as it is for any one else, isn't it?"
"I won't have it!" he said, lifting his voice slightly.
She had risen and now stood leaning against the arm of his chair.
"Marsh, he didn't kill McBride; he couldn't—he wouldn't harm a mouse!"
Her words set him raging.
"Keep quiet, will you—what do you know about it, anyhow?" he cried with sullen ferocity.
"Don't be rude, Marsh! So you don't want me to come to the trial—you tell me I can't?"
"Did my father say anything about this matter—the trial, I mean?" asked Langham haltingly.
"Yes, I think he spoke of it, but I really wasn't interested because you see I am so sure John North is innocent."

He caught one of her hands in his and drew her down on the arm of his chair where he could look into her eyes.
"There is just one question I want to ask you, Evelyn, but I expect you'll answer it as you choose," he said, with his face close to hers.
"Then why ask it?" she said.
"Why—because I want to know Where were you on the day of the murder—between five and six o'clock?"
"I wish you'd let me go, Marsh; you're hurting me—" she complained.
She struggled for a moment to release herself from his grasp, then realizing that her effort was of no avail, she quietly resumed her former position on the arm of his chair.
"You must answer my question,

RESULTS THAT REMAIN Are Appreciated by La Crosse People.

Thousands who suffer from backache and kidney complaint have tried one remedy after another, finding only temporary benefit. This is discouraging, but there is one kidney medicine that has earned a reputation for lasting results and there is plenty of proof of its merit right here in La Crosse.

Here is the testimony of one who used Doan's Kidney Pills years ago, and now makes her testimony even stronger.

Mrs. Mary Scates, 1712 Market St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "I still consider Doan's Kidney Pills the best kidney medicine on the market. I have previously endorsed them through the local papers and at this time gladly do so again, for they gave me permanent benefit. There was lameness across my loins and I had a tired, listless feeling. I was not certain that my kidneys were weak, but when I read of the cures Doan's Kidney Pills were making in similar cases, I decided to try them. I got a supply at Erhart's Drug Store and the result of their use was gratifying. The backache and lameness was removed and the other symptoms of kidney complaint that had annoyed me went away."

A pair of hand cuffs saved the life of Police Chief John Redeker of Manistique, Mich. Redeker had gone to the city prison and was picking killing from the floor to start a stove fire. The position of his body caused his pistol to be discharged, and when he felt a stinging sensacertain that he had been fatally wounded. He hurried to the office made and it was found that the bul-from a belt inside his clothes. The bullet had driven a rivet of the cuffs

DECLARES DELAY ADDS DANGER

Says Antagonism Between Japan and U. S. Will Be Greater if Action Is Deferred

California's position on the pending anti-alien legislation is clearly set forth in a statement given to the United Press today by Senator Ernest

S. Birdsall, of Placer county, who helped frame and who introduced the senate committee's substitute bill.

This proposed act is now ready for final action, a similar measure already having passed the lower half ofthe California legislature.

(By Senator E. S. Birdsall, of Placer county.)

After years of delay in undertaking this proposition of lawn ownership by unassimilable aliens for reasons of expediency, with the same excuses for inaction offered by succeeding legislatures, the people of California have become impatient of diplo-macy and world politics and are no longer to be denied in their imperative demand.

Farmers Demand

It must be understood at the outset that it is not the so-called "jingo" element that is back of this anti-alien land legislation, but first all the farmer, the substantial man upon whom the state relies for the substance of its life. He has set his hand to this thing in the same way that he grips his plow, and he's going through with it. Either he will get relief through his legislative representative, or the question will be decided directly by the initiative.

If the anti-alien land law went tothe people, it would pass by a vote of 3 to 1.

Here are the alternatives which the agricultural population of this state are confronted:

Prevent the Japanese and other non-assimilable aliens from acquiring land which they are now doing to an alarming degree, or face a competition with "the squat labor" on the adjoining quarter section that means economic retrogression.

Delay Adds Danger

Delay but makes the situation more acute. The antagonistic feeling which this may inspire between the two nations is bound to become more intense as the interests at stake become more extended.

The Japanese farm laborer in this state is simply a pawn, moved by a propulsive force which the west coast

American has just begun to fully comprehend. First he comes as a laborer; then he contracts to move the crop, under-bidding his white competitor, getting a foothold.The next year it is easier for him; he enters into a short term contract working the farm on shares. Then a lease is made and finally comes ownership, with the white population moving away, the adjoining property lowered in price, desired only by other aliens.

ject any and all bids.

CIGAR IS CAUSE OF SMALL FIRE

Dye Works Building Saved by Prompt Arrival of Fire Departments Yesterday

A carelessly thrown cigar is believed to have been the cause of a fire which broke out in the lower floor of the Pittner Dye Works building, 291 State street, at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When fire department Nos. 1 and 3 arrived on the scene a lot of rubbish about one of the lower windows was blazing briskly but was put out with but little difficulty. There was no loss.

A bonfire of leaves that had been raked up from the yard spread its flames to a small hay stack in the yard of Nick Hintges on Mormon Coulee road yesterday and called out fire department No. 5. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

Sparks from a foundry chimney caused a small fire on a back porch of a dwelling house owned by Mrs. Ed Pratt, 124 South Front street at 11 o'clock this morning. Department No. 1 arrived in time to prevent damage.

HEAR APPEAL ON ORDER

CHICAGO, April 21.—Hearing on the appeal from Judge K. M. Landis' decision, rescinding the order of sale of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric company, was begun in the federal circuit court of appeals today.

The original order for the sale of the road was rescinded by Judge Landis on representation by Nathan Mases, an attorney, who charged that through collusion in the bidding that portion of the road lying in Illinois and worth between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 was knocked down to a committee of stockholders for $1,600,000.

SCHOOL CHILDREN STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 21.—Forty school children struck in Allegheny this afternoon and formed a straggling parade bearing banners inscribed: "Kick out Heeter." Since charges were made against Superintendent of Schools S. L. Heeter by Miss Ethel L. Fisher, resulting in his indictment and acquittal there has been objection in certain quarters to his continuance as head of the schools.

CALIFORNIA VICE PROBE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 21.—A comprehensive investigation of white slavery in Los Angeles, was promised today by Chief of Police Sebastian and Deputy District Attorney Ingram following statements by Catherine Mann, aged 18, an employee of a moving picture show. The girl made a statement involving a rich California man in her downfall. The authorities are withholding the man's name. Forty-one other girls, all under age, are being interrogated and four of them have made affidavits naming the same millionaire as having contributed to the delinquency of at least six girls. Sensations are expected when the probe gets under way.

LEG SPOILS SHOW

CHICAGO, April 21.—With powerful overhead strokes, fearless Freddie swam to the rescue of the beautiful Gladys, who was being pursued by a hungry crocodile through the waters of a lake bordered by tropical foliage. Five hundred "movie" fans at the Elba theater held their breaths and watched.

"Oh, will he save her?" wailed a woman down in front. She never found out.

Into this thrilling scene were injected the legs of young William Brinkman, son of the proprietor of the "movie" show. A shower of plaster drowned out the music and busted the coiffure of the girl at the piano. Willie's legs waved distractingly among the tropical palms.

Half the audience fled in panic. Those that remained saw Willie drawn up into the loft above the picture house and heard Brinkman, Sr., administer some telling blows.

"He'll keep his legs out of the public eye in the future," said Brinkman, Sr., today.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Six hundred and fifty-one claims, aggregating $16,640,731.63 have been filed against the Oceanic Steam Navigation company as a result of the sinking of the White Star liner Titanic.

The report of United States Commissioner Gilchrist showing these claims was filed in the United States district court today. Aside from claims for loss of life, the largest of which is that of Mrs. Henry B. Harris, who seeks $1,000,000, there are four claims for injuries of $25,000 each. Other claims for personal injuries run from $20,000 to $10,000 and smaller amounts.

AVERAGE SWIMMER CAN'T SAVE A LIFE

Instructor Corsan Says that Less Than One Per Cent Are Able to Rescue Another

Hobden H. Corsan, international swimming instructor of the Y. M. C. A., arrived in the city this morning, to begin his six day swimming campaign. About seven hundred boys and a large number of men have enrolled for instructions. Mr. Corsan makes a special plea to the men and boys of La Crosse to take advantage of the instruction that the Y. M. C. A. offers.

Mr. Corsan says that according to government statistics there have been over 7,000 persons, aside from the flood victims, drowned in the United States in the past nine months. He declares that only 15 per cent of the men of this country can swim, and that less than 1 per cent of these could save life, if they were called on.

Mr. Corsan uses the crawl stroke entirely in giving instructions to beginners. He says that the old fashioned breast stroke that is so widely taught is the cause of many drownings, and the cause for so many persons going through life without the pleasure of swimming.

ROADS ASK EXTENSION

U. P. AND S. P. RAILROADS MAY BE GRANTED MORE TIME TO PERFECT DISSOLUTION PLANS

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 21.—The application of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, whose merger was dissolved a year ago by the United States supreme court, for an extension of the time allotted to them to file their plan of reorganization until July 1, was first denied and then put up to the supreme court by the United States circuit court of appeals for the eighth circuit, sitting in St. Paul this morning.

Judge W. C. Hock recited that the circuit court recently sent a suggestion to the supreme court that an extension of time be granted, and that the decision on that suggestion will probably be made today, thus making it unnecessary for the circuit court to deny the application on the ground of lack of authority to grant it.

Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific railroad, had the railroad's plan of reorganization in a bulky document ready to submit if extension of the time were denied, thus making St. Paul the scene of the reorganization of the Harriman roads or the appointment of a receiver.

JAPS TO FIGHT WAR AGITATION

TOKIO, April 21.—The American-Japanese society will hold a meeting tonight at the solicitation of Buel Nakano, to consider the Japanese agitation against the California alien bill. The society will make an effort to counteract the demagogic clamor against the proposed law.

The extremists have for a time ceased their demands for war against the United States and the government and conservative newspapers never have taken seriously the possibility of war. The agitation is believed to be the work of a group of politicians, opposed to the present minister, who are seeking to embarrass the government and are using the American land bill to enflame the masses.

CURTISMEN LEAVE TO PLAY MILLERS

Manager Curtis and his players of the Superior team will leave the city tomorrow for Minneapolis, where they will play the first game of the Northern league season with Minneapolis, where they will play three games. From Minneapolis the team will go to Winona, where they will play three games, and from there they will play St. Paul two games. Their next game will be played at home.

TRACE GYPSY BAND

CHICAGO, April 21.—Detectives today scoured the country near South Chicago for a caravan of gypsies believed to have kidnapped Katherine Winters, aged 9, from her home in Newcastle, Ind., on March 20.

Joseph Stanley, head of the gypsy encampment at Lyons, Ill., notified the police that five wagon loads of gypsies, answering the description of those seen at Newcastle at the time of the child's disappearance, stopped at his camp. The police traced the band from Beryn to Summit, Ill., and believe they are headed for South Chicago.

ORGANIZE TO FIGHT DUTY

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 21.—Elimination of tariff on sugar by the Wilson-Underwood bill is to be fought by united forces in Louisiana. An agreement was entered into today whereby three million members of the National Farmers' union will aid the American Cane Growers' association in a fight against "free sugar." Terms of the agreement were not given out.

CANDY COMPANY FAILS

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., April 21.—The Taylor Brothers Candy Company, a big local industry of comparatively recent development, was today declared to be insolvent. Assets were placed at $210,000 and liabilities at $500,000.

AUTO IS HURLED THROUGH A FENCE

Earl Richmond's Arm Is Broken and Others Injured when Machine Turns Somersault

"DOUBLE S" AT LAST SCORES

Steering Gear Fails at the Crooks in South Salem Road, and Party of Young Men Is Spilled

Earl Richmond, accountant of the Leader-Press, gave a splendid exhibition of nerve today when he appeared at his desk as usual at eight o'clock this morning, with his fractured arm in a sling. The bone was broken just below the elbow, and was Mr. Richmond's contribution to the casualties of an automobile accident which occurred Saturday evening on the South Salem road. The complete record of the accident follows:

Earl Richmond, right arm broken. Walter Goetzinger, musician, hand cut by wire fence.

Lloyd Lamb, scalp wound inflicted by wire fence.

Walter Erickson, bruised about body and head.

Percy Bentley, stunned but otherwise unharmed.

Webb Russell, who was driving the car, escaped without injury other than the shock of what for the moment seemed to him a serious accident. The young men had been taking a turn in the country. The night was dark and the driver negotiating the "Double S" curve on the Salem road. The knuckle of the steering gear fell off, the powerful car plunging straight ahead down the embankment. Although the speed was moderate, the momentum of the heavy car sent it over with considerable force, and the machine turned turtle in the ditch.

Russell landed in a sitting down position, coming to his feet on the rebound. Both Richmond and Goetzinger were hurled through the fence. The boys kept their wits about them and notwithstanding the painful results of the accident, made all speed in fixing the car and getting home. The clothing had been literally torn from the backs of both Richmond and Goetzinger by the wire fence, and Mr. Richmond passed some uncomplimentary comment upon the barbs, to which Mr. Goetzinger replied:

"You've got no kick coming; you only went through it once. I went through it twice."

Mr. Goetzinger is blind, and his return through the wrecked fence proved almost as disastrous to him as his original passage at arms with the barbs when he was shot from the car.

REGARD POPE AS OUT OF DANGER

Physicians Issue No Bulletin Because His Holiness Is Safely Convalescent

ROME, April 21.—For the first time since his relapse, the physicians to Pope Pius X issued no bulletin on his condition today, saying that the patient was now regarded by them as safely convalescent.

The pope passed a good night. His sleep was light, but it was natural and unbroken continuous after 4 a. m. Before that hour he awoke at short intervals, once asking that the window be opened, at another time he sat up in bed in spite of his attendants, saying he could not breathe lying down.

Throughout Sunday the pontiff was noticeably better. His temperature rose in the afternoon, but there was no fever. The chief task, now, of his attendants and relatives, is to keep the pope quiet and in bed.

NO TRACE OF MARTIN

MISSING COTTON BROKER OF MEMPHIS NOT LOCATED EITHER IN VEVEY OR LONDON

LONDON, April 21.—The disappearance of Joseph Wilberforce Martin, the missing Memphis cotton broker, was just as much of a mystery today as it was on April 3, when he dropped from sight somewhere between his flat and the Royal Automobile club.

The Daily Mail's wireless dispatch from the captain of the steamship Walmer Castle, bound for South Africa, effectually disposed of the rumor that Martin sailed on that vessel April 5. Nobody yet has appeared at Vevey, Switzerland, to claim the letters and telegrams there, addressed to P. W. Martin. Several are from London. Telegraphers in Vevey who handled the mysterious message sent from there signed "Martin" are confident that it was not filed by anyone resembling the missing man.

TO ACCEPT TERMS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 21.—When the miners' convention assembles here tomorrow, considering Governor Hatfield's proposals for settlement of the long standing Paint and Cabin Creek coal strike it is said Hatfield will have a few pertinent remarks to make regarding the attitude of both miners and operators throughout the strike and during the recent negotiations.

That the men will approve peace proposals although their leaders deliberated three days and failed to agree and "passed the buck" back to the rank and file, is the assumption on which the operators are working. They are preparing to open the mines. Posters today announced that the nine hour day and two week pay items of the governor's plan would go into effect at once.

NELSON TO OPEN JEWELRY STORE

Conrad Nelson will open a jewelry store in the corner space of E. M. Young's drug store, Third and Main streets, about the first of next week. Mr. Nelson is engaged at present in setting up fixtures for his new venture. His stock will begin to arrive about the middle of this week.

SCOUTS CHARGES IN RECALL

MILWAUKEE, April 21.—That the charges contained in the recall petition filed against him are "trumped up" and are for the purpose of injuring him politically, was the statement here today of Mayor H. M. Peavey of Washburn, Wis. Peavey also represents his district in the Wisconsin assembly district.

EMBEZZLER SENTENCED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Charles F. Baker, former assistant cashier of the Crocker National bank and confessed embezzler, today was sentenced by United States Judge Van Fleet to serve ten years in San Quentin prison.

HURT CRANKING AUTO

RACINE, Wis., April 21.—E. J. Burkett, master mechanic of the Case Threshing Machine company, forgot all his technic when he attempted to crank his auto while the machine was in gear. He fractured four ribs, wrenched his spine and sustained internal injuries which doctors fear may prove fatal.

Baseball is regenerating the Filipinos. Why not try it on the Mexicans, with Governor Bleasie as chief umpire?

PLAYERS EXPECTED TO HELP KEEP CUBS IN FRONT OF NATIONAL LEAGUE BATTING

Frank Schulte, Roger Bresnahan (top), and Johnny Evers.

The Chicago Cubs are expected to be a big factor in the National League pennant race. Manager Evers seems to have instilled in them a fighting spirit which, if turned in the proper channels, will considerably jar the pennant hopes of other teams. Frank Schulte, veteran, is expected to steady the outfield, while Roger Bresnahan, former Giant catcher who last year managed the St. Louis Cardinals, not only will do a great part of the backstopping, but should prove valuable as an adviser to Evers.

Mrs. Richard Derby, who until the other day was Miss Ethel Roosevelt, and her husband are on their way to Europe. They will spend some weeks abroad and on their return Dr. Derby will resume the practice of medicine in New York City.

The accompanying picture was taken just before the Derby wedding. The colonel is seen assisting his daughter through the crowd and into the little Episcopal church at Oyster Bay, where the ceremony took place.

GIVES BOCK FESTIVAL NANCY LEISHMAN TO MARRY DUKE

BERLIN, April 21.—A local news bureau today announced that it was in a position to confirm the engagement of Miss Nancy, daughter of United States Ambassador John G. A. Leishman, to the Duke of Cro.

The betrothal was rumored several months ago. At the time, it was not denied by either the Leishmans or the young duke, but was allowed to go without confirmation and finally was almost forgotten. It was whispered that the Wall street suit against the ambassador somewhat cooled the young man's ardor.

Miss Leishman, with her mother and aunt, who is a French noblewoman, are now in Paris.

FRIEDMANN CLAIMS "CURE" IS WORKING

NEW YORK, April 21.—Dr. F. F. Friedmann was busy today studying the condition of various patients he has treated with his turtle culture, which he believes to be a cure for tuberculosis. Several patients were examined today and the physician today declared that all had shown marked and steady improvement.

"Dr. Stimson, the government expert, and Dr. Erdmurm, of Bellevue, agreed with me," Friedmann said, "that the symptoms shown by the patients to date were in accord with my promises when I began the treatment."

MOOSE WIN RECOGNITION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 21.—The bull moosers won their legal fight for a place on the primary board when Judge Remster today ordered the city clerk to appoint a progressive member of the board in place of a republican. The case hinged on the definition of the clause "last preceding election," the progressives contending this meant the last general election while the republicans urged for the last city election.

TO OUST G. O. P. IN SOUTH

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Democrats are to replace the present republican officeholders in the south. President Wilson made this clear to a number of patronage hunting delegations from below the Mason and Dixon line today. But he also emphatically explained that he will refuse to be hurried in making his selection, and that "party hacks" are to be barred, only efficiency to be considered.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The stock market opened quiet and firm. 11 a. m.—The market was dull during the first hour. Little stock was offered for sale and traders generally seemed to be waiting the decisions of the supreme court before indulging in any activity.

Union and Southern Pacific were noticeably firm on the expectation that the new plan of dissolution would be submitted to the court. It was announced at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Company that the new $10,000,000 issue of New York Central notes had been subscribed.

Chalmers
"Thirty-Six"

Worth $1000 More

But costs only $300 to $500 more than some other car you may be considering

First of all we want to impress upon the motor car buyers of this community that the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" is a good car.

It is exceptionally good. It is worth more than passing notice. Because there is no other car at the price which offers so many fine features and so much real value.

This car has a really wonderful motor, 4 1/4" bore and 5 1/4" stroke. It develops full 36 horsepower at low engine speeds and goes as high as 45 horse power when the motor is turning over rapidly. But the beauty of it is the great power at slow speeds. You know that means "she is there" on the hills.

The four forward-speed transmission is an advanced feature hitherto found only on the highest priced cars. And the gears in Chalmers' transmissions are ground to eliminate all noise. You positively cannot get this feature in any car under the Chalmers price—and in no other at this price either.

Utmost comfort is found in the deep 11-inch upholstery, the Turkish cushions, the long wheel base (118"), big wheels and tires (36"x4"), the long springs, the roomy body.

In convenience, no car surpasses the "Thirty-Six." Every driving operation is controlled from the seat. A foot-button operates the efficient Chalmers compressed air starter. One single switch controls the Gray & Davis lighting system. Carburetor is adjusted from the dash. Ignition switch, gasoline pump, light meter, horn and Warner speedometer are all on the cowl dash.

The "Thirty-Six" is staunch and safe. Axles are of nickel steel; double drop frame unusually heavy; steering connections are all drop forgings; brakes of maximum strength and grip.

In looks, style, grace, elegance, no car offers more than the "Thirty-Six." It is a beautiful car in every line.

And lastly—the "Thirty-Six" is a factory-built car. Not assembled from parts bought here and there—but actually built by the company whose name it bears. There is an inspector to every 13 workmen in the Chalmers factory. That's your assurance that Chalmers cars are built right.

Come see the "Thirty-Six" and learn for yourself why it is such a good car—such a wonderful value for the price, $1950 (fully equipped, f. o. b. Detroit.)

CLASS TO PLAY DAVID GARRICK

One Hundred to Finish at High School This Year; Speakers Are Chosen

"David Garrick" has been chosen as the senior class play at the high school. After several tryouts the following cast has been selected: David Garrick—Cyrus Minshall.
Ada—Elinore Schweizer.
Ingot—Kenneth Dickens.
Chivy—Henry Otten.
Mr. Brown—Harry Young.
Mr. Jones—Ray Merman.
Mr. Smith—Joe Colman.
Mrs. Smith—Louise Brown.
Araminta Brown—Helen Dyson.
Thomas—Theodore Edwards.
George—Harold Bryant.

The speakers for the commencement program have been chosen by the class and the faculty as follows: Forest Wittercraft, Jeannette Anderson, James Evans, Ruth Boynton, Clayton Marvin and Zita Knothe. Members of the graduating class are busy checking up credits, having their pictures taken and ordering cards and invitations for graduation. There will be about 100 graduates this year.

Mr. Bert Wiebrecht has accepted a position as clerk on the government boat Elsie and will take up his duties today.

On Saturday Robert Farnam and Maynard Barney walked from Winona to La Crosse. They did not break any records but they made the distance in the remarkably good time of eight hours and a half.

LA CROSSE ON ROAD TO YELLOWSTONE

That La Crosse is on the Chicago, Black Hills and Yellowstone Park highway, an automobile drive that is being laid out by a national association, is the information contained in a letter received by Mayor Ori J. Sorenson. The association requested that the letter be turned over to a civic organization of the city to awaken the moral support necessary to the completion of the enterprise. With this object in view the letter was turned over to the board of trade.

Pathfinder cars will be started from Chicago in the near future to mark the road to the Yellowstone park. As now laid out the highway is undoubtedly the most "scenic" road in the United States and the drive in the vicinity of La Crosse is no small part of the beauty of a trip from Chicago to the great mountain reserve. The road will be marked on sign posts with the colors of the association: a black and yellow band. The association hopes to secure aid for the upkeep of the road in the near future.

GEORGE CROTTY IS VERSATILE ACTOR

"Duke of Crottyville" Leaves 'Em Laughing with Absurd Tricks and Foolery

George Crotty, duke of Crottyville, left 'em laughing at the Majestic yesterday. They began to laugh when he first appeared and there were only a few intervals for breath until he left. Crotty is a versatile entertainer, who does absurd things ridiculously. He sings and dances as well, but it was his foolery that made the audience like him.

Eckert and Berg have a beautifully produced vaudeville operetta called "Blossoms," the scene of which is laid in Japan. Both are accomplished singers, and Mr. Eckert proves to be a man of his hands on the piano. He travels with a specially constructed instrument, upon which he performs wonderful imitations. Miss Birdie Fulton of Eau Claire, astonished everyone by her shrill and birdlike whistle. She is an attractive little miss with a nice voice, and her singing was appreciated. Her forte, however, was that piercing whistle, which she handled well even on difficult selections.

Eddie Ackerman, tramp cyclist, performed a number of difficult feats, including taking his wheel apart while rolling at speed around the stage. He threw away everything but the back wheel and the frame and continued to ride. His act is marked by two of the most startling falls imaginable.

The Jack Winkler trio have a knockabout comedy athletic act, in which the clowning of Winkler is the chief attraction. He does a number of laughable stunts and falls.

NORH, BALTIMORE, Ohio, April 21.—"I had to do it to save mother and my brothers and sisters," today declared Beulah Byer, 17, who shot and killed her father, Charles Byer, 52, on the Byer farm yesterday. The girl is held in jail here. According to other members of the family, Byer in a fit of drunken rage threatened to kill the entire family. He started upstairs for a gun. But Beulah raced ahead of him, secured the revolver, and when he attempted to take it from her shot him.

CLASS GRADUATES AT ST. WENCESLAUS

Bishop Schwebach Presents Diplomas to Eleven; Operetta Presented by the Boys

The graduation and entertainment of the St. Wenceslaus school was held last night in the school hall, before a large audience. The presentation of diplomas was made by Bishop James Schwebach. Those on the class roll were: Thomas Formanek, Wencelous Svec, Mathew Werel, Wencelous Satek, Charles Bruha, Edward Frisch, George Guggenbuehl, Rudolph Maurer, Stephen Uhler, Rose Wasteka, and Louise Prucha. Class Patron, St. Wenceslaus; class flower, carnation; class color, red and white; class motto, "Honors Wait at Labor's Gate."

The program last night was considered to be one of the cleverest ever seen in the city, given by a grade school. The imposing feature of the program was the operetta, "The Bell in the Forest," which was presented by a cast of boys. The playlet portrays the life of the Bohemian people in their own country. A noble is having trouble with a poacher who invades his private hunting grounds. When the poacher is found in the hunting grounds, the monks toll a bell, which had been set up years before, to call the people to the forest to find the one trespassing. Charles Bruha, as Prince Percival, regent of the forest, and Edward Frisch, as the game keeper's son, were well received in their respective parts.

Several other numbers which were given before and after the play were well received by the large audience. The program aside from the play was as follows:

Grand March—Phil. B. Perry.
Class Song—"Welcome." Valedictory—Rose Wasteka.
Class Roll and History—Charles Bruha.
Duet—"Marching Feet." Otto-Malvina Mydels, Henrietta Kreutz.
Class Prophecy—Louise Prucha.
Drill—"Weapon that Cut Down the Cherry Tree"—Minims.
Essay, "Bohemia"—Thos. Formanek, Geo. Guggenbuehl.
Vocal Duet, "Rose and Lily"—Glover-Louise Prucha, Rose Wasteka.
Song and Drill, "Sea Shells"—Minims.
Violin, "Night of Joy." Offenbach—Louise Prucha.
Song, Snow Storm and Tableau, "Good King Wenceslaus"—W. Svec.
Presentation of Diplomas—Rt. Rev. J. Schwebach.
Accompaniste, Miss Mary Prucha.

It has been decreed that there shall be no more "starboard" and "port" in the navy. Next thing we know somebody will be meddling with the golf language.

MURPHY DEFEATS AD WOLGAST

Harlem Tommy Licks the Former Champ Easily and Is on Trail of Titleholder Ritchie

NEW YORK, April 21.—Friends of Harlem Tommy Murphy, who decisively beat Ad Wolgast Saturday, were today loud in their demands that the New Yorker be given a chance at Willie Ritchie's title. At the same time a well defined rumor was going the rounds that the next man to fight Ritchie will be Johnny Kilbane, present featherweight champion, who is reported to have aspirations for the lightweight crown also.

Murphy, according to the opinion of many ringside sports, has the best claim to a match with Ritchie. It is pointed out that the Harlem boy was victorious over Ad Wolgast before the latter defeated Nelson. Reports from the west say that Jim Coffroth will stage a Murphy-Ritchie fight at his arena July 4, but Manager Gibson of the Arena Athletic club is already making plans for a meeting between the two.
